

CODE OF CONDUCT
FOR FACULTY,
STUDENTS AND STAFF

Shoolini University of Biotechnology and Management Sciences, Bajhol, Solan,
Himachal Pradesh, 173229

August 6-10, 2018

Student Orientation and Induction Program

The Student Orientation and Induction Program, scheduled according to the Academic Calendar, was successfully conducted from August 6 to August 10, 2018. Led by the Dean of Student Welfare, the program featured active participation from Deans and Faculty members. During the orientation sessions, newly admitted students were comprehensively briefed on various aspects, including University intricacies, Academic Rules and Regulations, Hostel guidelines, and the Code of Conduct. The program aimed at ensuring that students are well-versed with the university's policies, fostering a smooth transition into their academic journey while emphasizing the importance of discipline within the campus environment. We appreciate the active engagement and cooperation of all participants in making this orientation program a valuable and enriching experience.

No. of participants- 180

Impacts:

- Enhanced understanding of university policies.
- Smooth transition into the Academic Journey
- Emphasis on disciplinary values.

August 8-12, 2019

Student Orientation and Induction Program

The Student Orientation and Induction Program, by the Academic Calendar, took place from August 8 to August 12, 2019. The program, spearheaded by the Dean of Student Welfare, witnessed active involvement from Deans and Faculty members.

During this comprehensive orientation initiative, newly admitted students received in-depth insights into various facets of university life. The sessions were designed to apprise students of the University's intricacies, Academic Rules and Regulations, Hostel protocols, and Code of Conduct, which includes guidelines for maintaining discipline while on campus. The engagement and enthusiasm displayed by all participants contributed to making this orientation an invaluable experience for the newly enrolled students.

No. of participants- 200

Impacts-

- Holistic insights into university life
- Guidance for adherence to campus norms

October 2-5, 2020

Student Orientation and Induction Program

The Student Orientation and Induction Program, as per the Academic Calendar, was held on the campus from October 2 to October 5, 2020. The program, conducted by the Dean of Student Welfare in collaboration with Deans and Faculty members, served as a crucial introduction for newly admitted students.

During these sessions, students were comprehensively briefed on various aspects, including an overview of the University, Academic Rules and Regulations, Hostel protocols, and the Code of Conduct. Additionally, a dedicated session on Plagiarism was conducted by the Dean of Research and Development, providing valuable insights into the significance of academic integrity and guidelines to prevent plagiarism.

The program facilitated a smooth transition for students, equipping them with essential knowledge and fostering a sense of awareness about the University's policies.

No. of participants- 195

Impacts-

- Comprehensive understanding of university dynamics
- Smooth transition and policy awareness
- Promotion of academic integrity

August 3-5, 2021

Student Orientation and Induction Program

Student Orientation and Induction Program, aligned with the Academic Calendar, took place from August 3 to August 5, 2021, on the campus. The program, spearheaded by the Dean of Student Welfare in collaboration with Deans and Faculty members, focused on providing newly admitted students with essential information about the University.

During the sessions, students received valuable insights into the University's framework, Academic Rules and Regulations, Hostel guidelines, and the Code of Conduct applicable to the campus. Additionally, a workshop on ethical teaching methods was organized, emphasizing the importance of teaching with integrity and considering ethics in education.

The program aimed to equip students with the necessary knowledge and foster a sense of responsibility within the academic community.

No. of participants- 250

Impacts-

- Emphasis on ethical teaching methods
- Fostering responsibility within the Academic Community

August 9-10, 2022

Student Orientation and Induction Program

The Student Orientation and Induction Program, by the Academic Calendar, took place on the campus from August 9 to August 10, 2022. The program, conducted by the Dean of Student Welfare along with Deans and Faculty members, successfully apprised newly admitted students about crucial aspects of university life.

Throughout the sessions, students received detailed information on the University's structure, Academic Rules and Regulations, Hostel guidelines, and the Code of Conduct applicable to the campus. A special session on Research Ethics, organized by the Dean of Research and Development, provided students with insights into the principles of ethical conduct in research, fostering a responsible and integrity-driven approach to their academic pursuits.

The knowledge imparted during these sessions is intended to equip students with a strong foundation for their academic journey and encourage a sense of responsibility within the academic community.

No. of participants- 150

Impacts-

- Emphasis on research ethics
- Foundation for academic journey and academic responsibility