Dussehra, also known as Vijaydashami in certain parts of our country, makes way for Diwali celebrations. One of the most important and widely celebrated festivals, the festival of lights or Diwali marks Rama's homecoming after his victory against Ravana and is celebrated twenty days after Dussehra but the main ethos of Dussehra festival is that of good triumphing over evil and it is on this day that people pray for prosperity and good health.

Dussehra festival was celebrated with great ceremony in the university campus. An about 30 to 35 feet effigy of Ravana was made by the student members of the Satrangi Strokes. The students gathered at Basketball court were very excited for the celebration. More than 600 students had gathered at dusk. Thereafter the statue of Ravana was burnt which spread a great sense of joy & energy among the students.
