SPRINT 260 was conducted for the 211 students of Sciences 1st Semester on “Communication Skills” from 19-20th of December 2022. The sessions were aimed at equipping the participants with various communication skills and tools that are essential in today's fast-paced world. The first day of the training session was marked by a warm welcome address by Dr. Rihani, the Dean Engineering, who set the context for the session by emphasizing the importance of effective communication in all spheres of life. This was followed by a Guest talk by Mr. Tushar on the Five Waters Lessons of Communication from the Advertising World. He emphasized that effective communication is not just about what you say, but also how you say it. He provided several examples from the advertising world to illustrate his points. Dr. Purnima Bali then took the stage to talk about Smart Communication. She focused on how to communicate effectively in today's digital age, including the use of technology and social media to reach out to a wider audience. The next session was led by Dr. Prachi Kapil and Dr. Subodh Saurabh, who conducted a session on Body Language. They explained how body language is a powerful tool in communication and how it can be used to enhance the message being conveyed. They also provided several examples to demonstrate the points they made. The second day of the training session started with a talk by Dr. Amar Raj on the Communication Tools of the Future. He discussed how technology is rapidly changing the way we communicate and provided insights into the latest tools and technologies that are being used to enhance communication. This was followed by a session by Mr. Shard on Group Discussion Guidelines. He provided valuable tips and guidelines on how to participate effectively in group discussions and how to communicate your ideas and opinions in a clear and concise manner. The final part of the training session involved an activity on Communication, which was designed to provide participants with hands-on experience in communicating effectively. The activity involved group work, role-playing, and other interactive elements that helped participants put into practice what they had learned. The training session concluded with an outdoor activity that was aimed at helping participants develop their teamwork and communication skills. The activity involved a series of challenges and tasks that required participants to work together and communicate effectively to achieve the goals set out for them.

Conclusion:

The SPRINT session was well received by the participants, who appreciated the hands-on and interactive nature of the sessions. The speakers and trainers were highly knowledgeable and provided valuable insights and advice on effective communication. Overall, the SPRINT session was a great success and helped participants develop their communication skills and knowledge, which they can put into practice in their personal and professional lives.
