Dhananjay Talk on Gender Equity

The concept of gender equity goes beyond mere equality. It represents a vision of fairness, justice, and equal opportunities for people of all genders. In recent years, there has been significant progress towards achieving gender equity. One of the key aspects of gender equity is the empowerment of women. But gender equity is not just about women. It also encompasses the experiences and rights of individuals who do not conform to traditional gender norms. For this, Shoolini University organized a talk on gender equity featuring Mx. Dhananjay Chauhan who is a gender rights activist. She emphasized on providing minor genders with the tools, resources, and support necessary to make their own choices, control their own lives, and participate fully in social, economic, and political spheres. She said that we must strive to create a society that embraces diversity and inclusivity, where people of all genders are respected, valued, and given equal opportunities. This involves challenging harmful stereotypes and biases, promoting LGBTQ+ rights, and ensuring that everyone has the freedom to express their gender identity authentically.
